ASLA Student Honor & Merit Award Program

The ASLA Student Honor and Merit Award program, administered through the ASLA chapters, is designed to be a collaborative effort between ASLA chapters and landscape architecture programs.

The awards recognize academic achievement, design excellence, and interpersonal skills.

Faculty select nominees from all eligible candidates. The ASLA Chapter (in this case, BSLA), coordinates an independent jury to select the Certificate of Honor and Certificate of Merit winners.

...and now, presenting the 2020 Design Awards
Boston Society of Landscape Architects (BSLA) seeks to recognize excellence in the diverse practices of landscape architecture.

Projects should demonstrate excellence and reflect the careful stewardship, wise planning, and artful design of our cultural and natural environment.

The jury has determined that the awarded projects merit recognition in one or more of the following areas:

- Exemplary social, cultural, educational, or environmental significance
- Outstanding quality, craftsmanship, creativity, or artistry
- Unique and innovative technologies, techniques, or concepts
- Advancement of the public’s awareness and perception of the field of landscape architecture

Awards may be granted in LANDMARK, PROFESSIONAL, and STUDENT categories, for design, analysis & planning, communication, and research projects. Student and Professional awards will be recognized at the levels of Excellence, Honor, and Merit.

Landscape architects and students based in the BSLA Chapter area — Massachusetts and Maine — are eligible to submit, as well as projects sited within Massachusetts and Maine regardless of where the design office is located.

The process includes a two-stage, blind peer review. No identifying information about the designer is allowed.

“Olympic Games as an Engine to Transform L.A. Mobility Pattern: Vermont/Exposition park as an example”

The city of L.A. has long time notorious from its car-oriented urban style and orientalize pedestrian walking. Roads, highways, parking garages have reshaped how humans navigate with their surroundings. Forresee the advent of AV as an opportunity that transportation system becomes more efficient, sustainable, and equitable. With the incoming Olympic Games as a experimental test of AV transit system, the city could cease the turning point to shift the mobility pattern.

Pre-Olympic

2028
Olympic Games

2047
Post-Olympic

2028 is second L.A. Olympic. But what has LA benefited from the last Olympics in terms of transportation? 1984 Borrowed bus: temporary, no long term contribution to city transit. Along with 2028 slogan of the “Minimal Build” thus rent bus from other city and accommodation from USC. However, we see 2028 Olympic as potential and engine to provide the critical city infrastructure that supports a transit-oriented lifestyle. Our project will focus on the element of transportation, housing, and the streets that together provides a transit friendly city.

Future streets focus on people, pursuing how to adopt AV mobility technologically to our cities. The street needs to be design for humanity and nature and would change our impression about street life. Street not just a space for mobility but also a living place. With the help of AV fleet to increase the efficiency and the concert of public transit, streets would once again be an friendly element that shares our life in the city.
Maintain service frequency to provide a seamless transit transfer experience. A smaller model of bus can be used to maintain frequency on low-demand routes.

Public Housing provides the right demographic to create demand on for public transit. Pedestrian experience along the transit hub should be improved to promote walkability.

Metro and express bus serves as the backbone of the city’s transportation system. Busy bus routes can be upgraded into rapid line with on-street priority.

Micro-transit hubs provides a convenient mobility service by allowing users to check-out shared bike/scooters as a first/last mile transit solution.

65,000 Public feedbacks gathered through on-site tours, mail and email surveys, comments and messages on the website/social media platform.

I grew up in Wuhan. The port culture and all the historical heritage affect my life. The riverfront park should demonstrate our local culture.

I’m concerned about the highway idea. It will impact the riverfront landscape and bring noises. It also gives me a feeling of depression.

I always go to the riverfront park with my little grandson. I hope the park will be more and more ecological, and provide an educational value.

Riverfront urban design should take public facilities like libraries, museums and the ones for the elderly as top priority.

“Announcing the first ever...”

“I have no doubt it would catapult Linda’s career, but most importantly, it would be a well deserved recognition and gift back to a woman who gives selflessly to many throughout her career.”

“We have this amazing opportunity and moral obligation to change our world into one which uses less fossil fuels. I want to do this work with my practice and ASLA leadership opportunity.”

“She has expressed several times her desire to bring more students with her background into the profession, but she also firmly believes in going back to her country and making it a profession there.”

“The Conference will broaden her mission and voice as a champion for women practicing as landscape architects and design professionals. She is a determined individual with a thoughtful and contextual approach to design and a future leader for our profession.”

“I know Saeideh as an ambitious emerging professional who has thrown her energy wholeheartedly into volunteer work supporting the ASLA Women in Landscape Architecture (WILA) Professional Practice Network.”

“I know that ultimately my successes are a result of not just my own hard work, but the efforts of the incredible support system of men and women that have taken the extra five minutes, given me the ugly feedback, and challenged me to thrive.”

“Opportunities for young women leaders like Ashley to forge bonds are critical to the advancement of the field and the cultural shift their leadership represents.”
